F) COMMUNITY REPORTS

None.

G) PUBLIC COMMENT ON ANY TOPICS OR ITEMS OR COMMUNITY EVENTS (Including requests for removal of items from Consent Calendar for individual discussion.)

Each person was given three minutes to speak.

Kevin Cross, Fort Collins Sustainability Group, discussed global warming and expressed concern Fort Collins will miss its 2026 and 2030 climate pollution reduction goals. Cross stated we should not be complacent about projected shortfalls and stated it is important to fund the budget offers recommended by the City Manager as well as the five other climate-related offers that were not recommended.

Barbara Krupnik-Goldman opposed the proposed PRPA methane gas turbine plant and requested Council adopt a resolution requiring independent third-party review of the plan. Krupnik-Goldman asked if existing gas turbines will be shut down or whether they alone offer enough insurance for dark and windless days. Additionally, Krupnik-Goldman stated the climate crisis is not the same thing as climate change.

Doug Henderson, Sierra Club, opposed the proposed PRPA methane gas turbine plant and stated PRPA is falling behind many other utilities in transitioning to clean energy. Henderson reminded Council of its goal of 100% clean energy by 2030, which was also set by PRPA at that time, though PRPA has consistently resisted meeting the goal, underinvested in clean energy, and refused public transparency about critical assumptions in its modeling. Henderson encouraged Council to require an independent third-party review to determine whether the proposed gas plant is needed.

Elizabeth Hudetz commented on damaging rains in central Europe and fires northeast of us noting these are examples of climate chaos. Hudetz opposed the proposed PRPA methane gas turbine plant stating it will feed the climate chaos. Hudetz requested Council require an independent third-party review of the proposal.

Dolores Williams opposed the proposed PRPA methane gas turbine plant and shared examples of various weather events that are occurring due to climate change. Williams expressed concern insurance coverage will begin to be eliminated and urged Council to require PRPA to move forward with renewable energy sources.

Fred Kirsch opposed the proposed PRPA methane gas turbine plant and shared concerns about the engineer who resigned from PRPA, which Kirsch stated was even more of a reason for requiring a third-party review.

Kimberly Connor shared videos related to the Israel/Palestine conflict and urged Council to call for a cease fire and arms embargo.

Anna Lai expressed support for Resolution 2024-118 related to alternative sentencing for Municipal Court and shared benefits of these programs versus incarceration. Lai stated these programs will help eliminate social stigma and recidivism and praised Fort Collins use of the innovative approach.

Ed Behan, Larimer Alliance for Health, Safety, and the Environment, opposed the proposed PRPA methane gas turbine plant and expressed skepticism that the plant would remain idle unless needed during dark calm periods. Additionally, Behan stated PRPA is last among Colorado power utilities in establishing a truly renewable energy resource for its member communities at a time when air quality in our region remains some of the least healthy in the state. Behan urged Council to require a third-party review of the Integrated Resource Plan.

Colin Gerety stated the City's goals to reduce vehicle miles traveled have generally failed primarily due to poor road design that encourages speeding and ensures the community will always be auto dependent. Gerety suggested Council should pass an ordinance requiring a reduction in lane width and having no more than one lane in each direction.

Amy Hoeven noted she serves on the Citizen Review Board but was speaking for herself. Hoeven thanked Council for its ongoing support of the immigration and eviction legal funds and shared information about DACA and work authorization students being supported by the assistance. Hoeven stated financial stability is vital in keeping families and communities secure, healthy, and self-sufficient. Hoeven urged Council to continue to support the funds in the upcoming budget.

Sam Killmeyer opposed the proposed PRPA methane gas turbine plant and associated rate increases for a plant that will worsen air quality and contribute to climate change. Killmeyer urged Council to require a third-party review of the Integrated Resource Plan and stated PRPA is the poorest performer in the state in adopting clean energy plans.

Debbie Mayer, Colorado Poverty Law Project, spoke in support of the eviction and immigration legal funds and discussed the work her organization has been able to complete with support from the funds to help get ahead of evictions. Mayer urged Council to continue to support the funds in the upcoming budget.

River Heide, Colorado Poverty Law Project, spoke in support of the eviction and immigration legal funds and discussed the work her organization has been able to complete with support from the funds. Heide urged Council to continue supporting the funds stating there is ongoing need for this type of assistance.

Arpi Miller, ISAAC Northern Colorado, thanked Council for meeting with her and spoke in support of the immigration and legal defense funds as well as other affordable housing initiatives that remain unfunded. Miller stated that the budget seems out of sync with the values of the community and noted 48 leaders from 27 local non-profits signed on in favor of supporting the immigration and legal defense funds and preserving equity funding in the budget.

Patricia Alvarez Harrell, Alianza NORCO, expressed support for the immigration and legal defense funds and Council's commitment to this segment of the community. Alvarez Harrell shared information about eviction prevention and work that has been done with the legal defense fund. Alvarez Harrell thanked Council for its efforts related to this work thus far and encouraged funding of the budget offers.

Michele Pullaro, citizen and downtown business owner, discussed issues with being targeted by homeless and transient men and chronic criminal behavior in the downtown area. Pullaro suggested the Public Nuisance Ordinance should be able to be used to address troubling behavior on public property.

Adam Hirshhorn opposed activities that are occurring related to the Israel/Palestine conflict and asked Councilmembers to raise their hands if they were ready to acknowledge various items in support of Palestine.

Public comment concluded at 6:57 p.m.

H) PUBLIC COMMENT FOLLOW-UP

Councilmember Potyondy noted that public comment is not an opportunity for dialogue with Councilmembers. She thanked the speakers, particularly those from community non-profit organizations.

Mayor Arndt provided a correction on an email she sent out related to submission of the PRPA Integrated Resource Plan and read information related to the requirements and related modeling and emission reductions.

Councilmember Ohlson noted he still supports a third-party review of the PRPA Integrated Resource Plan and asked if it takes three or more Councilmembers to do this. City Attorney Daggett replied the topic could be brought up under Other Business and would require the support of three Councilmembers.

Councilmember Ohlson stated he would support the item if it were brought up under Other Business. He also expressed appreciation for the comments offered by Colin Gerety regarding road design and noted a new book is out related to road design and safety, entitled Killed by a Traffic Engineer by Wes Marshall.

Councilmember Canonico discussed the Council priority related to advancing the 15-minute city by accelerating the shift to active modes and requested an update from staff. City Manager DiMartino stated many projects are underway and noted the City recently received a $1.7 million grant for active modes projects and stated staff would follow up with additional detail.

Councilmember Pignataro thanked the student who spoke in support of the resolution on alternative sentencing.

Lenz provided additional details around the amended agreement and noted the new language also includes adjustments for annexations to ensure the Authority is not financially harmed from those inclusions to the city limits.

COUNCIL QUESTIONS

Councilmember Ohlson expressed support for the examination of the fairness issue related to which entity funds what and asked if there is a similar agreement with the Library District to ensure the City covers its costs. Travis Storin, Chief Financial Officer, replied in the affirmative and stated it is more of an allocated, volume-based approach.

Councilmember Ohlson asked if the City assists the Library District with human resources. Storin replied in the affirmative and noted IT services are shared between the City, Library District, and PFA.

Councilmember Ohlson asked if the City recovers its cost from the Library District for the human resources assistance. Storin replied in the affirmative.

Councilmember Ohlson asked about the City contribution being reduced by the net cost of services provided. Storin outlined the rationale behind the approach and stated the formula is correct to cover the City's costs today.

Councilmember Ohlson suggested it may be time to redo the formula and asked if that would be considered. Storin replied discussions have occurred regarding how both organizations may go about that and stated staff would look to Council and the PFA Board to provide direction on embarking on a benchmarking study for the cost of service.

Councilmember Ohlson noted PFA gets some subsidies from the City and questioned why the Natural Areas Program gets charged for items that are subsidized for organizations that are not directly part of the City. He stated all cost recovery levels should be the same.

Mayor Pro Tem Francis asked if the $435,888 number is the cost of services provided to PFA by the City. Lenz replied in the affirmative.

Mayor Pro Tem Francis requested clarification on the two different methodologies used between slides 13 and 15. Lenz explained the methodology and stated the goal is to memorialize what has been considered to be a fair share throughout the years while addressing things that have changed and allowing for the number to expand or contract depending on future circumstances.

Mayor Pro Tem Francis stated she feels very comfortable with this agreement and thanked staff from both organizations for doing this work.

Councilmember Ohlson asked that it be highlighted that the money is being added back in to the City's contribution and stated the City is not contributing $435,888 less than had been done before. Lenz noted that the underlying principle for doing this is that the assessment has shown that the formula is fair. Storin provided additional clarification.

Mayor Arndt stated this body of work represents a lot of thought and stated she appreciated everyone's efforts.

Mayor Pro Tem Francis moved, seconded by Councilmember Gutowsky, to adopt Resolution 2024-119 Approving the Second Amended and Restated Intergovernmental Agreement Establishing the Poudre Fire Authority.
